DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 3-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lassota.

There is disclosed in Lassota a brewing apparatus, comprising: a reservoir 30 for heated water; a brewing chamber 24; plumbing 32, 38 (spray head); a flow control valve 34 to regulate the flow of heated water; a controller 42 communicating with the flow control valve for opening and closing; a memory 48 accessible by the controller, storing a plurality of pulse brew profiles; selectors 54, 56 operably controlled by a user for choosing a pulse brew profile; wherein the controller polls a temperature sensor sensing a temperature of the infusion liquid in the reservoir, and is responsive to the temperature of the sensor to close the valve (col. 9, lines 50-55).

Applicant's amendment to claim 1 includes only functional language involving the operation of the device. The length of the pulse brew profiles and how they relate to the volume of brewed beverage does not qualify as means plus function language and therefor does not carry patentable weight.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lassota in view of Lassota et al.

There is disclosed in Lassota et al. the use of a bypass valve 50 to direct heated water to a beverage collecting member 28.

It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to provide the device of Lassota with the bypass valve disclosed in Lassota et al., in order to dilute the brewed beverage.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 10 and 12 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 30 May 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. As the arguments apply to claims 1 and 3-9, it is the opinion of the examiner that the prior art discloses all of the claimed structural limitations. See rejection above involving functional language in the claims.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
